Huge "Bath Tub" Moved Here by Creosote Plant

railroad shipments ever handled in one unit, brought to Marion from Washington C. H. for the Baker Wood Preserving Co. It is 140 feet long and was shipped on three flat cars.

140-Foot Tube To Be Used For Treating Ties; Carried on Three Railroad Cars.

A giant metal tube weighing 80 tons in which 800 railroad ties will be given "creosote baths" in one operation is being installed here for the Baker Wood Preserving Co., which is moving its operations from Washington C. H. to Marion.

The tube is so large that construction of the building to house it will not be undertaken until the tube is mounted on its heavy concrete base. Once built, the building will have to be partially wrecked to permit removal of the tube.

Three 50-foot flat cars were required to bring the huge tube to Marion from Washington C. H. by rail. It is 140 feet long and seven feet in diameter. It was one of the largest single unit shipments ever hauled by the railroad and a special routing by rail was necessary to avoid sharp curves.

When placed in operation early this year, the tube will be opened at one end to receive 16 train cars loaded with 800 standard size railroad ties. Then it will be bolted shut and 20,000 gallons of creosote oil will be used to flood the tube. The oil will be subjected to 175 pounds pressure. During the five to seven hour period in which the ties will be left in the tube, this pressure will force the preserving preparation into the core of the ties.

The oil then will be drained away and a vacuum applied to draw excess oil from the ties. The tube then will be opened and filled and prepared for another load of ties.

If filled with liquid alone, the tank will hold 60,000 gallons.

New Assembly in Favor of Personal Income Tax

Also Approves of Sales Tax Reenacted by "Lame Duck" Session; Battle Foreseen Over Levies.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 2 — A cross section of sentiment among members-elect of the 82nd general assembly which convenes Monday showed today that enactment of a personal income tax was favored by more than three to one.

A similar cross section of the new members indicated better than two to one sentiment in favor of reenactment of the sales tax, which was done by the "lame duck" session now extinct.

It generally is anticipated that efforts to enact an income tax law will result in one of the chief battles facing the new lawmakers. The house passed a personal income tax bill during the last session, but it died in the senate.

Gov. Martin L. Davey pledged to "no new taxes" he has not indicated whether he would approve an income tax bill if such were passed. The governor is attempting to balance the budget without new levies, but several members of the old assembly insisted present revenues would lack almost $15,000,000 of meeting the state's requirements.

Democratic Senate Leader Paul P. Yoder, lieutenant governor elect, refused to vote for the governor's plan.

FIRST NEW YEAR BABY REPORTED

The first New Year's baby reported in Marion and vicinity is a 10-pound son born shortly before noon yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Richardson of southeast of Waldo.

This year, for the first time in a long period of years, Marion city was without a New Year's day baby, a check of physicians today revealed.

The Richardson baby has been named Arvin Dale. He has a sister and three brothers.

ARREST AMONG TRIO OF LEADS IN KIDNAP CASE

Former Convict Questioned

CHILD'S CLOTHING FOUND
Odd Colored Ink Used To

By The Associated Press
TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 2 — Questioning of a former convict, examination of an abandoned campsite and study of ink coloration sent officers on new scents today in the search for 10-year-old Charles Mattson, kidnapped Sunday night.

The 33-year-old former convict, closely resembling Charles' kidnaper, was arrested by city police last night when he attempted to sell a lady's camera ring on a downtown street. He was fingerprinted and questioned by department of justice agents, then remanded to jail for investigation.

Detectives George Burgeson and Al Farrar reported the man claimed to be a striking seaman.

Saw Boy at Camp
The campsite, littered with parts of a boy's clothing, a detective magazine and food, was discovered near Olympia, where residents reported seeing a boy and a man Monday. Though Detective Capt. Ray Flays of Olympia said he doubted any connection with Mattson case, the clothing was carefully scrutinized. The detective magazine featured a kidnapping article and had various figures such as "8,000—58" pencilled on a margin.

Ink coloration entered the kidnap hunt when it was learned the ransom note left by the kidnaper in the home of Dr. W. W. Mattson Sunday night was printed with an odd colored ink and informed the family any further communications would use the same color.

At the Mattson home, meanwhile, there was no significant activity.

Tacoma police admitted they arrested the former convict chiefly because of his close resemblance to the kidnaper as described by two three youngsters who saw young Charles seized from the Mattson living room.

Finger prints showed he had served a term for automobile theft in the Washington state reformatory, officers said.

Descriptions of the suspected kidnaper and the prisoner are:

Kidnaper — Height, 5 feet 4 inches; weight, 145 pounds; complexion, swarthy; voice, slight; features, sharp; light tan checked cap; blue (zipper) blazer.

Prisoner — Height, 5 feet 7 inches; weight, 145 pounds; complexion, dark; beard, black; features, sharp; broken nose; voice, low, no accent; left handed; light tan checked cap; blue (zipper) blazer; turtle-necked sweater.

The description of the kidnaper who broke into the Dr. W. W. Mattson home here last Sunday night and carried Charles away, was furnished by the 10-year-old boy's brother, William, 16; sister, Muriel, 14; and her cousin, Virginia, Chaffinch, 16, Seattle.

Dr. Mattson said no "direct word" had been received from his son. However, he did not include the kidnaper in the statement.

At the home automobiles moved in and out of the blind street. Lt. Col. Gus Appelmann visited the home twice Thursday night and once Friday. He has been mentioned as a possible intermediary.

1936 Auto Sale Bills Set New All Time High

Clerk Records 11,685 To Surpass Mark of All
Previous Years.

A total of 11,685 automobile bills of sale issued in 1936 by Clerk of Courts Everett B. Griggs broke all annual records as far back as totals were kept. The previous record was 10,256 in 1929, the first year in which totals were kept. The sale of 1,339 new cars last year was the highest since 1929 when 1,726 were listed; 205 new trucks were sold in 1936 to set a new record, exceeding the 1929 sales of 151 by 57.

In comparison with 1935, last year saw an advance in sale of new cars, new trucks, and total bills of sale as follows: new cars, 1,339 in 1936, 266 over the 1,033 of 1935; new trucks, 205 in 1936, increase of 60 over the 145 of 1935; total bills of sale, 11,685 in 1936, increase of 1,429 over the 10,256 of 1929.

During December the sale of 324 new cars broke the 1929 record of 57 by 17, and surpassed the 1933 mark of 104 by 20. New truck sales totaled 15, an increase of four over the 11 of December 1935. Total bills of sale numbered 762, or 67 more than the 695 of December 1935.

Included under total bills of sale are those for both new and used trucks and passenger cars.

MAJOR ISSUES FACE CONGRESS

Neutrality, Relief and Money
Problems Require Action in Session Opening Tuesday.

WAR TO SPUR NEW LAW

Present Act Needs Change To Meet Dangers Involved in Spanish Conflict.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 — Members of congress, assembling today for the session beginning next Tuesday, found a heavy first month's work already cut out for them.

Administration demands to extend the neutrality law to the Spanish civil war will be the opening business. Before the month ends two other major legislative problems will arise.

Relief funds are nearing exhaustion. A new appropriation of at least $500,000,000 will be asked to carry through the remainder of the fiscal year ending June 30. Extension of the President's monetary powers, expiring Jan. 30, also will be sought forthwith.

Much of the Democratic chieflets were expected to be on hand today for final pre-session conferences.

On the house side legislative problems were subordinated temporarily by the warm battle between Representatives Rayburn of Texas and O'Connor of New York for the prized post of Democratic leader. This dispute will be settled at a party caucus Monday. Re-election of Speaker Bankhead, Democrat of Alabama, was coincided.

A host of controversial problems in the background indicated a long, bitter congressional session despite record breaking Democratic majorities in both houses.

President Roosevelt will deliver his annual message Wednesday, after congress has verified his reelection by counting the electoral votes in a ceremonial joint session.

Advisors on the hill expected little hint, at least until his inaugural speech Jan. 20, of his plans for shortening hours and raising wages.

He was said to be interested in a proposal to create a commission to fix maximum hours and minimum wages for individual industries deemed to be in interstate commerce.

German 'Act of War' Brings Spanish Appeal for Help; Rome, London Sign Treaty

Italy-British Agreement
Guarantees Status Quo in Mediterranean and Terminates Friction.

GERMANS REASSURED

Italian Says New Accord
With London Does Not
Modify Rome Accord
With Berlin Rulers.

By The Associated Press
ROME, Jan. 2 — Great Britain and Italy today signed a gentleman's agreement, an official communiqué announced, guaranteeing the status quo of the Mediterranean and drawing the two great powers to closer cooperation.

Only a brief communiqué was published to announce the important news that friction between England and Italy, which at this time last year threatened to burst into open conflict, had been eliminated.

However, the authoritative Fascist commentator, Virginio Gayda, made it plain the agreement in no way modifies the Italo-German understanding on European problems—including, this understanding, he asserted, "always remaining the backbone of Italian foreign policy."

His French Opponent
Gayda also charged the French had "attempted until the last minute to participate in the Mediterranean pact," for at least in delay its conclusion. He did, however, say Italy had no intention of adopting a hostile attitude toward France, but wanted a clarification of the French policy toward Spain, which is an integral part of the Mediterranean problem.

The text of the agreement, it was announced, will be published Monday.

Meeting in the Chigi palace, Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian minister for foreign affairs, and Sir Eric Drummond, the British ambassador, signed the document this morning.

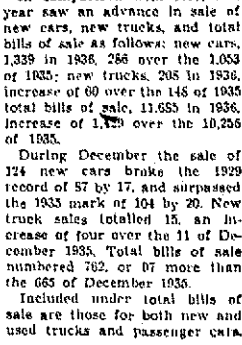

The communiqué announced: "Count Ciano, minister for foreign affairs, and Sir Eric Drummond, ambassador of his Britannic majesty, have signed on behalf of their respective governments a declaration by which the Italian and British governments exchange assurance with regard to the Mediterranean."

May Affect Spain
It was considered probable the accord would assist in an eventual regulation of the Spanish civil war as a danger to the status quo of the Mediterranean.

Informed sources here reiterated, however, that Italy does not intend to desert the Spanish Fascist insurgents.

An authoritative source described the agreement as follows: "The accord has three substantial objectives: Peace, the furtherance of good relations and solidarity of the Mediterranean."

A burr lodged in the throat of Marcus Redmond, 15, of 874 Bennett street when he used his teeth to pull it from a sleeve, was removed at 5:15 a. m. today at the Frederick G. Smith clinic.

Intake of breath as he started to laugh caught the burr as it was pulled away from the sleeve and forced it down his throat, into the windpipe.

A laryngoscope was brought into use at the clinic and the delicate instrument drew the half-inch long prickly burr from the larynx where it had lodged between the vocal chords. Redmond was asleep at his home at noon today, apparently none the worse for the operation. The attending physician said he would be fully recovered in a few days.

Redmond, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Redmond, started coughing at 11 last night with Mar- tin H. Chase of 817 North State street, Clarence Jones of North State street and "Chuck" DePrie, also of North State street. Although not a hunter, young Redmond had gone along "for the fun of it," his mother said.

The four were walking in the vicinity of Market about 8 a. m. when Redmond noticed the burr sticking to one of his sleeves and leaned down to pick it off with his teeth. "As he drew his head up," said his mother, "the burr slipped from his teeth and into his throat. He was brought to Marion (in the automobile) to which the four had started on the hunt and in less than 45 minutes the burr had been dis- lodged."

CITIZENS LOAN CO. HEARING MONDAY

Bid of $205,000 on Remain-

Before Judge Young.

Hearing on a bid of $205,000 for the remaining assets of the closed Citizens' Building & Loan Co., appraised at $253,125.63, will be held before Common Pleas Judge Hector B. Young at 10 a. m. Monday. The bid was made by the Crawford Finance Co., last Dec. 2.

The highest previous bid was of $185,000 made by a Toledo company at a public sale in October. The bid was rejected by Judge Young as being too low. In his approval of the application of C. D. Schaffner, receiver, for permission to accept the $205,000 bid Judge Young said it "appeared to the court to be the best and highest bid which the receiver has been able to obtain."

Action on determination of who will receive the money if the bid is accepted—creditors and depositors equally, or depositors alone—is being held up during the illness of Fred W. Warner, attorney for the receiver, and pending Judge Young's decision Monday. Mrs. Craig Walter of Dayton, claimed as a stockholder by the company, was recently set up as a deponent in a decision given by Judge Henry M. Rankin of Peapack county, who heard the evidence on her testimony in the original suit calling for the closing of the company.

Mrs. Warner has indicated she might file a contempt petition against the receiver, Schaffner, claiming that, making the issue to be decided, she was not to do so.

ONE VESSEL SEIZED

By The Associated Press
PARIS, Jan. 2 — The Spanish government ambassador to Paris today declared German warship shelling of the Spanish freighter Solon was "an act of war," and said Spanish envoys would at once consult the French and British governments.

The ambassador, Luis Araquistain, conferred by telephone with the government at Valencia and prepared to visit the Quai d'Orsay to take the matter up officially with French authorities.

Previously the Basque government at Bilbao had brought the matter to the attention of Valencia, demanding full support for the enlistment of foreign aid in preventing any German blockade of the Basque coast.

Hours close to the French foreign office said the Solon incident, and reports of the seizure of another Spanish ship by a German battleship, had led to German acceptance of the Franco-British demand for strict non-intervention in Spain, by foreign "volunteers" or otherwise.

Premier Leon Blum's newspaper, Le Populaire, denounced the seizure as a threat to the peace of Europe and said it showed "once more in the face of growing difficulties of the Spanish revolt, the calm government has decided to come to their aid by all means."

GERMANS TO CONTINUE "ROUGH TREATMENT"

By The Associated Press
BERLIN, Jan. 2 — German warships will continue "rough treatment" of Spanish shipping until the high seas, the foreign office announced tonight through its mouthpiece, Diplomatische Nachrichten.

The warning—apparently intended as a threat to Spanish authorities at Bilbao—came on the heels of an official announcement that German warships had "retaliated" against two Spanish vessels.

One—the freighter Argon—was seized. The other—the freighter Solon—was driven ashore by shells fired.

"No one had any right to expect relations between Germany and red (Socialist) Spain would be allowed to develop into a one-sided arrangement by which German ships on the high seas could be easily regarded as free plunder," correspondents said.

"If red Spain wishes to introduce such practices, it must also realize that its measures will not remain unretaliated—and that means until the reds in power finally return to methods accepted in international relations as customary and necessary."

Furthermore, the mouthpiece added, "Socialist Spain's disregard for foreign life and property has reached such a high degree that it is time for all states, with any interest in restoration of 'civilized conditions' in the Iberian peninsula, to give the situation their 'most earnest attention.'"

Ohio Man Wins Congress
Seat Despite Handicap

By CARL TURNER
Illustrated News
Writer.

SPRINGFIELD, O.—Physically handicapped persons the nation over will find an inspiration in the story of Arthur W. Alechire, who goes to congress in a wheelchair.

Alechire, the first Democrat ever elected to the national house of representatives from the normally Republican Seventh Ohio district, is now constituted, is paralyzed from the waist down.

Until an unfortunate accident 13 years ago he was as robust as the average young man, but one day in 1923, while cranking an old model automobile, the machine ran over him, fracturing the lowest spinal vertebra.

There followed seven long weeks in a hospital and six months in bed at home before Alechire, born in Luray, Va., 35 years ago, was able to move about. Then he could do so only with the aid of a wheel chair.

Operating Filling Station.
Where less courageous men might have abandoned hope and become dependent upon relatives or the public, Alechire's indomitable will to overcome his handicap led him in 1926 to open a gasoline filling station at an intersection north of here.

In a modest way his little business prospered, with Alechire wheeling about, waiting on trade himself, always with a smile and a friendly greeting with each customer.

But his work left him much unoccupied time which he wisely devoted to the reading of worthwhile books and to study. History is his favorite subject, although current events fascinate him and he keeps abreast of the times through voracious reading of the many newspapers and magazines to which he subscribes.

As Alechire's knowledge expanded, solutions to various governmental problems, notably labor and agriculture, suggested themselves to him and he determined to put his ideas into effect if given the opportunity.

Alechire looked longingly toward congress but his handicaps were insurmountable.

HOW TO CHOOSE A FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Why is it that so many people postpone the selection of a funeral director until the need is imperative? It is extremely unwise to do so, because in a moment of grief it is almost impossible to make the right selection.

Consider this fact—it may help you. A M. H. GUNDER & SON service is within the reach of any family. The service will be directed with close attention to necessary details—beautiful, complete, dignified. Your choice of furnishings determines the cost.

We know, too, you would much prefer to make your own decisions, rather than be dependent on neighbors or relatives. Our booklet "Your Right to Know" contains complete information on how to choose a funeral director. Get your copy today.

Wings For Sally

By BAILEY WOLFE

CHAPTER FORTY-SEVEN
Philip Wins His Fight
All the next day Sally tortured herself with the memory of Mary's midnight visit to Philip Page. To add to her unhappiness, she scarcely saw Philip all day. He did not come into the office either nor did he ring the bell for her.

When Sally reached home, the family were at supper and her stepmother was reading aloud a letter from her young half-sister Tip. "What do you think, Nanny?" said Mrs. Warren. "I'm expecting a baby. She's such a child herself. And to have a baby way off there in the wilds of South America!" "There are a lot of babies born down there, Mother," teased Nanny. "They even have real hospitals."

"She'll be all right," Sally agreed. "Here's a letter that concerns you, Sally," said Mrs. Warren, looking up from the page he had been reading. "Your uncle in Richmond writes that he has a vacancy in his publishing business that might interest you. He wants an answer immediately, since he has a good many applicants already."

Mrs. Warren handed Sally the letter and she read it eagerly. The position interested her, the salary was larger than the one she was now getting. Her uncle added that he would expect her to live with him and himself, and that her aunt longed to have Sally in the house.

"What about it, Sally?" asked Mr. Warren. "The change might do you good and the job seems to be a fine thing. Of course, you mother and I would have to part with you, but we wouldn't let that stand in the way of your going."

"I'll be leaving in a month or less for college," Ray reminded his parents. "I'll Sally goes, that'll leave you two old fogies here alone with nobody to look after you."

"We'll have some peace for a change," said his father. He turned back to Sally. "Well, by dear, what do you think?" "I think I may go," said Sally slowly. She got up and walked to the window leaving her supper all untouched. It had begun to rain outside, a soft, steady downpour that the parched ground drank eagerly. It seemed to Sally as she stared out at the gray lines of the rain that the future life she stretched before her was like the rain in color. A month ago she had loved Warren so much she could have promised that she would never live anywhere else. She had been excited over helping to make Warren a good place to live for the poor as well as the rich. Now all that was changed. One man had changed it for her.

Just as Philip Page had made Warren seem the most desirable spot on earth to Sally, so with like magic he had destroyed the vision. With a little shudder, Sally thought of the future left for her in Warren. She would have to live across the street from Mary and Philip. Their happiness would be thrust in her very face. The job in Richmond was an opportunity she could lose no time in accepting.

Two Weeks' Notice.
As soon as she reached the office next day, Sally wrote to her uncle, promising to come to Richmond in two weeks. Some faint hope that she would change her mind made Sally drop the letter in her desk drawer and wait to mail it until she had seen Philip Page. In the middle of the morning, when he did not call her to do his housework, Sally went to his door and knocked boldly. A curt voice invited her to come in.

"I didn't mean to ring for you, Miss Warren," said Philip. "You didn't ring for me?" said Sally, a slow flush spread over her face and throat. How cruel he could be, intentionally making it as difficult as he could for her to speak. "I have something to say to you, if you can spare a moment."

"Please sit down," said Philip. "I shall not need to stay that long," answered Sally coldly. "I'm leaving the office. I simply want to give the customary two weeks' notice."

"I was afraid you wouldn't stick it out long," said Philip. "Only the people who are obliged to make a living know what it is to stick to a job through thick and thin. Sally was so angry at this thrust that she could not give a coherent reply. She turned on her heel and left.

She immediately sat at her desk and paged with a little paper what Philip had once given her. Even so, for the past two weeks she had felt this desire to linger in the office. While she was here, she was close to Philip. Every time she remembered her of him, she felt good. "I'll run you down," Lola had said, her work was not putting on her hat. She looked nervously from the door. "What are you waiting for?" she asked. It was well known that she had only two days more to spend in the office. If she could not get a job, she would have to leave.

Despite his refusal, Philip comes to the McDonald party Monday.

Frostbite.
When the temperature drops and frosty weather comes, I receive many requests for information about frostbite and chilblains. Perhaps I can answer a lot of letters by an article on the subject.

There is a confusion of mind about these two conditions. To explain the difference, it is necessary to go somewhat into detail regarding them.

In mild cases of frostbite, the skin becomes bright red, and blisters form. In the more pronounced type, the skin becomes pale, stiff and brittle. The tissues may be so damaged as to cause partial destruction and even death to the affected parts.

Chilblains resemble frostbite but may follow mild exposure. In reality, this condition is a disturbance of the nerves and small blood vessels of the affected part. They come because of a peculiar susceptibility and sensitiveness of the skin. Some persons are much more likely to have chilblains than others. It is a condition especially common in children.

As a rule, chilblains appear on the feet, toes or legs. At first there may be marked swelling of the involved part. The pain is slight in most cases, but occasionally it may be so severe as to require an opiate.

Sufferers from this condition are benefited by improvement in the general health and better blood circulation. At times, the local application of a tannic acid and camphor mixture is beneficial.

Anybody can suffer from frostbite if he is careless about excessive exposure in freezing weather. Like burns and other disturbances of the skin, the symptoms may be mild, moderate or severe. Neglect to care for frostbite may prove disastrous. For this reason it is Knapp was serving time for a theft and Mayer was sentenced recently on a breaking and entering charge.

Sheriff Phil Kloos said the men used a backdoor in severing from here in their cellblock and gaining access to the window. Twenty three fellow prisoners refused opportunity to flee and instead gave the alarm.

A trustee heard their clamor and notified Mrs. Kloos wife of the sheriff. She ran to the fire alarm bell and called the police. Within a short time the alarm had been sent to police of surrounding states.

Sheriff Kloos held the six at large as Cecil Woods, 28, James Ling, 18, James V. Jackson, 22, Kenneth Knapp, 27, Glenn Turner, 42, and James Cawser, 19, all of Dayton and all serving for or charged with auto larceny, breaking and entering or check violations.

POPE WEAKER BUT GREETS ARCHBISHOP

Discusses Problems With French Cleric as Doctors Fear Gangrene in Wound

By The Associated Press
VATICAN CITY, Jan. 2.—Weakened by lack of sleep and feeling the danger of gangrene in an open wound in his left leg, Pope Pius XI insisted today on discussing church problems with a French archbishop.

The pontiff again suffering from circulatory obstruction in his leg received Archbishop Jean Chollet of Cambrai, temporary administrator of the diocese of Rouen. Vatican officials said no material change in the condition of the 79-year-old Holy Father after a recurrence of the affliction in his paralyzed limb.

The setback followed a brief period of recovery yesterday when the pain from an open ulcer caused by the burning of a varicose vein abated and allowed his holiness uninterrupted rest.

Physicians labored to build up the Pope's resistance to gangrene by special medication as the possibility of infection in the wound brought fresh fears to attendants.

Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli secretary of state was understood to be prepared to take over his duties at a moment's notice in event of the pontiff's death.

London Satisfied With Rome Pact

Informal sources asserted the accord would lead to better relations between the nations and at the same time might bring France and Italy closer together.

SPAIN ASKS HELP AFTER NAZI ATTACK

ing what it called two independent actions said the pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee had seized the Spanish freighter Aragon and that the cruiser Koenigsberg had forced the freighter Soton ashore on the Basque coast.

Officials professed not to know where the Admiral Graf Spee had taken the Aragon.

Deny Stirring Up Trouble

A foreign office spokesman, at the same time disclaimed that the German naval action meant "that we are trying to provoke more trouble in Spain" and said "it is really quite simple."

The spokesman continued "The German freighter Palos was seized on the high seas 23 miles from the Spanish coast."

"Therefore she clearly, was a victim of an act of piracy."

Our action toward the Spanish steamer (Soton) yesterday merely emphasized the government's determination to get genuine restitution for the steamer Palos incident.

The Palos was released by the Basques who seized her last week at Bilbao but part of the cargo considered war material and one Spanish passenger were retained.

Labeled Retaliation

The Soton incident of yesterday was described officially as follows:

In pursuance of retaliatory measures instituted by German warships as a result of the withholding of a portion of the cargo and a passenger of the German freighter Palos—which was seized outside the three-mile limit by Red Spanish naval forces—the German cruiser Koenigsberg on Jan. 1 seized the Spanish steamer Soton to halt.

Inasmuch as the steamer failed to obey this demand the cruiser first fired two blank shots and then—when those produced no results—fired several shells close to the steamer.

The steamer still attempting to escape ran aground outside San Juan harbor and was voluntarily deserted by her crew. The crew was taken to land in a Spanish fishing smack.

Cruiser Resumes Course

The Koenigsberg then resumed her course. No members of the Soton's crew are aboard the Koenigsberg.

At the same time the foreign office asserted Germany's reply to the Franco-British plea for a stoppage of volunteer departures for Spain would be delivered probably early next week.

The Italian ambassador conferred with Baron Konstantin von Neurath, German foreign minister this morning presumably in connection with harmonization of German and Italian replies.

Spanish moves to submit the Palos incident to the London non-intervention committee were said to have been the real cause of the new Nazi naval action.

Spaniards Order War on Foe's Ships

By The Associated Press
BILBAO, Jan. 2.—The autonomous Basque government today ordered its patrol boats to open fire on any vessels a lacking Spanish merchant ships after the German cruiser Koenigsberg shelled the freighter Soton.

The order was the first extreme measure by which the northern administration hoped to halt attacks by foreign vessels.

Authorities mindful they have only a limited number of small ships on patrol duty expressed hope the socialist government at Valencia would send warships and submarines to the northern ports.

These measures were ordered the Basque government announced with full realization of what the international repercussions may be.

The Soton was fired upon and forced aground by the German cruiser Koenigsberg in reprisal for retention of part of her cargo and a Spanish passenger by Basque captors of the German freighter Palos. The Palos herself was freed after a government airplane forced the German warship to leave.

The Soton was reported to have escaped capture by running aground during a maneuver in which the Koenigsberg opened fire on the freighter.

A government plane was said to have flown over the Koenigsberg which then retired outside of Spanish territorial water.

The Soton was reported undamaged and able to continue toward Santander.

ONE FOX BAGGED BY 1,000 HUNTERS

UPPER SANDUSKY, O. Jan. 2.—After a three hour hunt yesterday 1,000 residents of Wyandot and surrounding counties on the annual fox hunt of the Wyandot County Conservation league caught one fox. The catch exceeded the results of the hunt of New Year's day a year ago by one.

The hunt started at 2 p. m. southwest of Harpers and covered a five square mile area. The lone fox was trapped in a huge circle of weaponless hunters who joined hands and gradually narrowed down the circle. Thomas V. Warner, Wyandot county game warden made the kill and the animal was sold to Howard Scherick of Toledo.

Five in Crew Believed Drowned and Possibly Four Others in Lake Michigan

By The Associated Press
CHARTERED Mich. Jan. 2.—Coast Guard Capt. William Ludwig said today he feared all hands perished when the Beaver Island mail boat Marold II was blown to pieces by an explosion while sailing a gasoline cargo from the abandoned tanker J. Oswald Boyd in upper Lake Michigan yesterday.

Capt. Ludwig who returned to his Beaver Island station after an all night search for survivors said five members of the crew and possibly four other persons were aboard the 110-foot salvage boat. Both vessels caught fire after the explosion and continued to burn throughout the night.

At Charlevoix no one was reported missing this morning and persons who saw the Marold leave yesterday said they saw only the five members of the crew aboard.

KNOW WHEN TO LET CANE ALONE

By The Associated Press
INDEPENDENCE, Mo.—Grasshoppers may eat anything from hops to saddle leather when pressed for food but they avoided sorghum cane fields during the long summer until after heavy rains.

A county extension agent explained the cane contains prussic acid during drought periods in quantity sufficient to kill cows grazing on it. Rain dispels the acid.

The grasshoppers noted in Independence following the rain, the agent said. To me that is conclusive proof of their intelligence.

Eight Ohioans Killed in Traffic

By The Associated Press
Eight persons were killed in traffic accidents in Ohio launched this year 1937.

For the first time in five years there were no fatal New Year's eve accidents in Cleveland.

Most of the state's holiday deaths were recorded hours after the most ambitious of the celebration piled beneath (on top) the covers still reviving the ungodly greeting "Happy New Year!"

Ohio's first 1937 traffic victim was Brun Peter, 20, of Salem, who died in the wreckage of an automobile which crashed into the rear of a truck near Alliance injuring three other men.

COLLEGES OKAY CO-ED SMOKING

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO—Midwestern universities have reached the point of recognizing the co-ed's desire for a cigarette.

All co-eds do not smoke, of course, but for those wishing to light up between classes it depends upon whose campus she attends.

Washington university at St. Louis has a faculty ruling prohibiting the co-ed to smoke in front of Brookings hall, the women's building or any place on the quadrangle.

At the University of Chicago co-ed is considered old enough to use her own judgment as to where she smokes.

The same rule prevails at Northwestern university. The girls have the privilege of lighting up when and where they desire—except in the class room.

De Paul university and Loyola university forbid girls smoking on the campus. Loyola, however, has provided a special room for the purpose in its downtown building.

FIND MEN TEACHERS GIVE LOWER GRADES

By United Press
MANTOWOC, Wis.—School mammas give higher grades than school masters.

At least that was the conclusion of Superintendent Hugh S. Bonar of the Manitowoc schools after surveying scholastic records here.

Girls were found to get higher grades than boys because they take their work more seriously and complete their assignments with more diligence.

Women teachers have a decided tendency to be more lenient with grades than men teachers. Bonar said. He found that in one elementary school a woman teacher gave 20 per cent. A grades compared to 10 per cent for men teachers.

The highest grades were awarded to seven women teachers and 24 per cent of those grades were A's. The survey revealed. As were given 1019 girls and 919 boys.

Chevrolet Delivery Trucks Turn in Fine Performance

Chevrolet Gets A. A. A. Truck Test Certificates

E. Von Harbach, regional supervisor for the American Automobile association, presents 12 certificates of performance for economy records established by Chevrolet trucks to W. E. Fish, manager of Chevrolet's truck and commercial car department. The 12 trucks set new economy records in regular department store runs in 12 cities throughout the country last summer. The test runs were made under official A. A. A. sanctions and with A. A. A. observers present at all times.

AWARDS MADE FOR RECORDS

Tests Conducted in 12 Cities Under Supervision of Auto Association.

Awards were made this week by Chevrolet to 12 department store truck drivers who drove Chevrolet trucks on economy test runs over regular department store routes in 12 major cities last summer. A report on results of the test has been received by the Haberman Chevrolet Co. dealers in Chevrolet cars and trucks here.

The runs, made under official sanctions of the American Automobile association and with an official A. A. A. observer present throughout the 30 working days of the tests in each instance, resulted in the establishment of new economy records for ton and a half trucks.

The average mileage for all 12 trucks participating was more than 10 miles to a gallon of gasoline, and the average operating cost for both gasoline and oil was a cent and a half a mile.

This is considered extraordinary low by operators of truck fleets, particularly in view of the fact that the trucks taking part in the tests averaged 137 stops for deliveries per day.

The drivers, under the strict supervision of an official A. A. A. observer in each case, handled nearly 50 packages an hour and delivered each package at an approximate cost of a quarter of a cent each. They called on an average of more than 33 customers an hour in each of the 12 cities.

The average daily cost of gasoline and oil was less than 65 cents, and each truck used slightly more than one quart of oil during the entire 30-day run, averaging more than 1,300 miles each.

Not a single one of the 12 trucks had a demerit charged against it for accidents, or for careless or reckless driving, despite the fact that storms and wet streets were encountered part of the time in all but three of the test cities.

Each of the 12 trucks taking part in the test runs was selected from the assembly line of the Chevrolet plant at Flint, Mich., by E. Von Harbach, regional representative of the A. A. A., in accordance with official A. A. A. stock car regulations. Daily reports on the tests were sent to Mr. Von Harbach by the A. A. A. observers in the field.

In Denver, a mileage of more than 13 miles to the gallon of gasoline was recorded for the entire test period. In Chicago, the truck averaged only slightly over one and one-tenth cents a mile for both gasoline and oil, and delivered 11,632 packages at a cost of a little over one-twentieth of a cent each. In each case, new records were set.
